Controlled access to detail and aggregate risk data for decisions

How It Works for Employees

Employees feel safe and valued knowing the workforce is monitored.

- Employees report at-risk activities and symptoms anywhere, anytime
- All information captured by Apricity@Work is secure and protected from employers
- Individuals at risk of active COVID-19 infection are identified
- High risk individuals receive prompts to stay home, get medically evaluated, request testing, or learn more
- Employees can access health-related resources on the app

How It Works for Employers

Understand who is at risk, and how decisions impact your business.

- Grant access to managers or department administrators
- Identify liabilities with real time reports
- Set and adjust parameters based on company policy, office location or department functions
- Override as needed for extenuating circumstances
- Make informed decisions based on current CDC guidelines and medical knowledge
